Color Theory: An Exploration of Pigments

August 5 - 28, 2021

Featuring Guest Artist: Jim Sherraden

For artwork information, see pages 5 & 6.

Color Theory: An Exploration of Pigments is an exhibit focused on the way we experience color, and the emotional power pigments can evoke. Observe a textural ombré of color as you walk LeMoyné's gallery. See how over 30 artists express the harmony and inspiration brought on by statements of color in this exciting new exhibit, featuring guest artist, Jim Sherraden.

Featured Artist: Jim Sherraden

The 2021 Chain of Parks Art Festival cover artist is back for LeMoyné's Color Theory: An Exploration of Pigments exhibit. Kansas native, Jim Sherraden, has been a resident of Nashville, Tennessee since 1977. There he completed his university studies, which included a strong education in printmaking. From this foundation, he managed Hatch Show Print beginning in 1984 until 2013, overseeing its transition from a cultural survivor to a widely recognized graphic design icon and destination for letterpress enthusiasts.

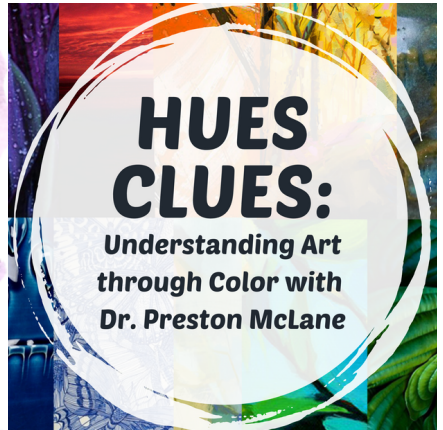

In 2005, Sherraden returned to carving his own woodcuts, continuing the work that first led him to Hatch Show Print over 30 years earlier. Six years later he began creating wooden quilts and then paper quilts. For these works of art, the artist readily cuts up his own printed pieces, mixing and matching them on single and multi-dimensional surfaces.

Jim Sherraden is represented by the Haley Gallery in Nashville, which also exhibits his monoprint work created during his tenure as Master Printer at Hatch Show Print from 2013 to 2017. He is currently the shops archivist for its parent company, the Country Music Hall of Fame, Inc., in Nashville Tennessee. Additionally, Sherraden is on the Artists Advisory Board at the Hamilton Wood Type Museum in Two Rivers, Wisconsin, where he currently serves as their visiting artist.

Upcoming Exhibit:
Figures in Form:
Barbara Balzer &
Lesley Nolan

September 9 - October 9

This exhibit showcases the ceramic works of Barbara Balzer and Lesley Nolan as they explore the figure in their own unique ways.

Accompanying the sculptures, is a juried selection of abstract 2D works from local and regional artists.

Together, the works transform the gallery into a surreal setting that encourages exploration of corporeal forms.
